

BLOW

Fluid shapes and high-tech blend into the architecture.

Type

Flush hinged, Hinged door and frame

Designed By

Karim Rashid

The Blow door is characterized by the curved, modeled shape of the panel, which takes on a wave-like form that becomes the handle. Technology becomes a fluid gesture that, thanks to the opening mechanism, fits in harmoniously with the architecture. Available both as a framed and flush-hinged door version.

Technical details

Opening of the hinges 180°

Telescopic jamb

Adjustable hinge

Jambs in aluminum

Magnetic lock

Installation on brick or plasterboard

Custom-made

Lock may be inserted

Swing door

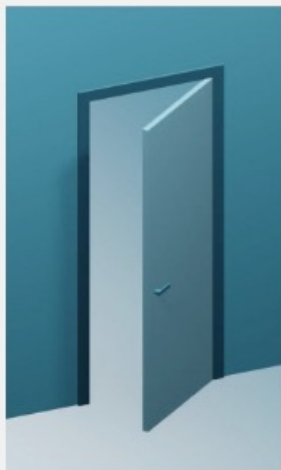

Flush door

Type

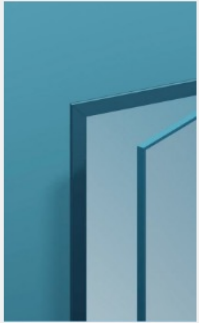

Flush hinged

Hinged door and frame

Combinable jambs

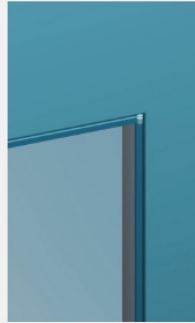

Jamb 45°

Customizable jamb

Slim jamb

Flush door with external hinge